SPEAKERS

Wayne Anderson, N.D.

Dr. Wayne Anderson is a graduate of National College of Natural Medicine in Portland, Oregon and member of ILADS, the International Lyme and Associated Diseases Society. For the past 25 years, he has focused his private naturopathic practice in northern California on treating chronic illness, including tick-borne diseases. Dr. Anderson is a popular speaker on the topics of Lyme disease and neurotoxin illness, and has gained invaluable experience using the Byron White formulas during the past 6 years to treat thousands of patients.

Joseph J. Burrascano Jr., M.D.

Dr. Joseph Burrascano is a well-recognized specialist in the diagnosis and treatment of Lyme and associated complex infectious diseases, and the chronic illnesses that accompany them. He dedicated his practice to the fight against Lyme disease for more than 25 years. A founding member of the International Lyme and Associated Diseases Society (ILADS), he currently is an active Board Member of the affiliated International Lyme and Associated Diseases Educational Foundation (ILADEF).

Dr. Burrascano's current areas of interest include his ongoing project, "The Lyme and Associated Diseases Registry™" that follows patients from the beginning to the end of their illness, to try to divine out what the various symptoms mean and which tests are worthwhile, to identify the medications and treatments that have the highest likelihood of curing the illness, and to uncover any possible drawbacks to treatment.

No longer in clinical practice, Dr. Burrascano works full time in the biotech arena to further medical research in tick-borne and other chronic illnesses.

Ann Corson, M.D.

A graduate of the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine, Dr. Ann Corson has been a member of the International Lyme and Associated Diseases Society (ILADS) since 2003. She has studied with Dr. Joseph Burrascano and Dr. Charles Ray Jones on grants provided by ILADS-Turn the Corner Foundation. Her practice in Chester County, PA is devoted full time to the treatment of patients suffering from Lyme and associated tick-borne diseases. In November of 2009, Turn the Corner Foundation awarded Dr. Corson with their Physicians Training Program Impact Award.

Dr. Corson is Board Certified in the practice of Family Medicine, and has 29 years of primary care experience in Emergency Medicine, Occupational Health, and Family Practice.

Steven J. Harris, M.D.

Board-certified in Family Practice, Steven J. Harris directs Pacific Frontier Medical, Inc. in Redwood City, Calif. Since 2001, Dr. Harris has focused his practice on the diagnosis and treatment of Lyme disease and other tick-borne co-infections. His approach to Lyme disease incorporates strategies found in conventional, functional and complementary medicine.

Dr. Harris has taken a lead role in the California Lyme Disease Association (CALDA), a research, patient advocate and education group, and is an active member of the International Lyme and Associated Diseases Society (ILADS).

Richard Horowitz, M.D.

Dr. Richard Horowitz is a board certified internist and medical director of the Hudson Valley Healing Arts Center, an integrative medical center in Hyde Park, N.Y. that combines both classical and complementary approaches in the treatment of Chronic Lyme Disease and other tick-borne disorders. He has treated more than 12,000 Chronic Lyme Disease patients in the last 20 years, with patients coming from all over the US, Canada, and Europe to his clinic.

Dr. Horowitz is the former president elect of the International Lyme and Associated Diseases Society (ILADS), and former president of the International Lyme and Associated Diseases Educational Foundation (ILADEF), a non-profit whose mission is to educate health professionals in the diagnosis and treatment of tick-borne disorders. He was awarded Humanitarian of the Year award by the Turn the Corner Foundation for his treatment of Lyme Disease, and has dedicated his life to helping those stricken with this devastating illness.

Byron White, Herbalist/Health Care Practitioner

Byron White has been a practitioner in the natural health field for more than 30 years. He has worked with 25,000 patients, focusing his practice on the treatment of Lyme disease and chronic illness. He was European and western trained in natural health modalities, specializing in herbology, bio-resonance, bio-energetics, homeopathy, hypnotherapy and neuro-immunology. Through ongoing research, Byron has developed 24 herbal and energetic formulas, and produced numerous educational CDs and energetic devices currently being used in health care. He also has taught extensively in the areas of medical hypnosis, stress reduction, neuro-immunology, weight loss and habit control. In 2010, his Byron White Formulas were introduced on a national scale to help practitioners treat the debilitating effects of tick-borne disease. He also teaches a layered method of health evaluation and core belief analysis.
